- Sickness, when our spirit and physical body rests, renews in the Lord.

Prayer

- Our daily quiet times, our renewal in spirit and truths
- Our family of five, our renewal together with each other, to grow together as we serve others
- Partnerships with churches

Show me your ways, Lord, teach me your paths. Guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my Savior, and my hope is in you all day long.

PSALMS 25:4-5 (NIV)

As we were finishing last year, we had Christmas programs in our ministry communities, in our Church, and in our town, as well as rest with our little family.

We prayed for Hatvan. This town and our church are key to our ministry, to our health. We love how God touches our hearts when we pray together for the people and families who live here and in this region.

We planned a Christmas Race for the English Club families and for the youth group with our church and Word of Life students. It was really fun!

Each evening December 1-23, a different home welcomed the other families into their yard to prepare our mood for Christmas. That was really great to get to know many families who wanted to attend each night. Eszter scheduled the families. The families could prepare snacks, tea, games, and singing together. The church decorated its windows on two nights when we could meet people and sing together. Our church is a little church plant with thirty members in a town where there around 22,000 people live, so the field is big. Pray for our church!

From these events, families now attend the English Clubs for kids and adults every Friday. Praise the Lord!

We could help people in need by listening to them and giving a little Christmas gift through the institute, where we help. Pray for their steps in faith to grow in actions. Some come from really hard backgrounds, like Géza, who is living in a caravan. There are so many areas to help!

Between the many things to do, we really need rest and to spend quality time with our children as a family. They really need us, and we really need them! Thank you for praying for us, our health, and renewal of our spirits, minds, and physical bodies! We love you and need your prayers! Thank you!
