PSALM 100:4 (NIV)

Dear family and friends,

Greetings from Japan!

In the past quarter, we continued our home assignment to visit churches and individual supporters in Alberta. We are especially grateful to some churches, including those in the States, which organized events to let us present our ministries with the congregations online even though we could not visit them in person.

Looking back on the entire home assignment this summer, we are very thankful that God provided us the opportunities to visit (in person and online) and present our ministries with almost 50 churches and individual supporters across Canada and the States. The Lord guided and strengthened us all the time and protected us in every kilometer of our travels on the road and on the plane, particularly amid airline strikes and unfavorable weather conditions. Meanwhile, we were greatly encouraged by love, care, and committed intercession from many congregations and friends throughout all past years. Thank YOU once again for walking with us on the mission journey with continued prayers and all kinds of support.

While we were serving in China some years ago, a lady we discipled got married with a Taiwanese Christian and settled in Taiwan after their wedding. Now, they have a lovely child of young age. Unfortunately, they experienced a lot of challenges in their marriage due to cultural differences, political tensions between Taiwan and China, tragedy happened in the family of origin, and persecution from family members who devote themselves to evil spirits. In our return trip to the Japan field in October, we took the opportunity to visit the couple in Taiwan, help them find solutions in the Lord, and provide them marriage counselling assistance. We also visited their church and met their close friends who can support the couple. We were asked to provide online counselling support to them regularly after we return to Japan. We pray that the couple have a strong and fulfilling marriage and the Almighty God is glorified through their family's witness.

Two teams of friends will visit us in Japan early November. Thanksgiving (United States) and Christmas seasons are coming soon. We are going to resume our visitations, English-speaking gatherings with Japanese, weekly English sessions with teens, children program in the church, Bible studies with families and university students. We pray that people would be drawn closer to God and know Him more through every event and opportunity.

We hope you and your family experience the wonders of God's grace every day. May the joy and love of God overflow in your family in this Thanksgiving season!

Many blessings!
